Apply for free file of the week.

☐

Once a week we choose 4 free files of the week. Users will be able to download the files for free for one full week. After that period the file will be offered at it's original price again. To be able to download future item updates or support the user will have to purchase the item.

Why apply for free file of the week?

- A separate newsletter featuring your file will be send to all Codester subscribers and your item will be displayed on the Codester frontpage. This is a great opportunity to get your work a lot of extra attention.
- It is a great opportunity to convert free downloads into purchases as future item updates are only available to buyers. You can also offer some extra support to buyers.

Apply for flash sale

☐

Every week we choose 4 files for a flash sale. If your item is selected, we will put it on sale for just one week for only 50% of it's original price. During this period we will actively promote your item through our website, social media channels and newsletter.
